PUBLISHERS' NOTES

MICHIGAN TOKEN AND MEDAL SOCIETY

For the benefit of collectors in Michigan, there is a Michigan Token and Medal Society whose president is Don McKelvey, METCA #20. Don writes us that their publication 'The Junk Box' is published four times a year and all Michigan TAMS members are entitled to free ads. Dues are $2.00 per year and applications can be obtained from Don McKelvey, 2822 19th Ave, Port Huron, Michigan 48060.

ANY TOKEN GROUPS IN CLEVELAND, OHIO?

One of our prospective members, Thomas N. Medley, 347 Bassett Rd., Bay Village, Ohio 44140, asked if there were any token groups in his area of Cleveland, Ohio. I'm sure Mr. Medley would appreciate hearing from some of our Ohio METCA members.

AUTO LIVERY TOKEN

Vernon McDowell, METCA #122

CHEASBRO/&/KINGMAN/AUTO/LIVERY/CARROLL, IOWA GOOD FOR/RETURN/TRIP

Aluminum-octagonal-Extra fine or better condition.

I acquired this transportation token in a batch of trade tokens that I bought and in checking the Atwood Transportation Book, I found two listed and this one unlisted. I would like to know if this token was added at a later date. I would appreciate any information that METCA members might be able to give me about this token.

RACKET STORE TOKEN

Mrs. N. J. Keel, METCA #80

BAKER & SONS/RACKET/STORE/MOLINE, KANS.

GOOD FOR/5¢/IN/MERCHANDISE

I am curious about what kind of store a 'Racket Store' is. Perhaps some of our METCA members might know. I have an old Tulsa, Oklahoma street post card that has a sign 'Racket' and wonder if it is a name brand of merchandise or perhaps a family name or chain store.

OKMULGEE OKLAHOMA TRADE SCRIPT

Del Ford, METCA 194, sends us a trade script certificate (pictured above; size 3½°' by 8'') which was used during the 1930's. After 35 business transactions, recorded by affixing trade stamps to its back, the certificate could be redeemed for $1.00.

REPLICA OR RESTRIKE POLITICAL BUTTONS

METCA members who also collect political buttons should take note that numerous replicas or restrikes are working their way into mail bids. Use caution, know your source and when in doubt check with an experienced political button collector.

BREUNERS' FIVE DOLLAR ''BRIDAL TOKEN''

by R. F. Herberg & Duane H. Feisel

Breuners is a long established (founded in 1856) furniture store with headquarters in Oakland and branch stores in a number of Northern California locations.

As a merchandise tool, during the period from 1920 to 1940 the company issued tokens to customers who had not used their accounts in some time. The tokens were sent out by mail as an inducement to come into the store and reactivate their accounts with Breuners. It would seem that the token listed by Album as Ala 65 B20, shown below, was the style of token used for this purpose. In view of the span of years over which this type of promotion occurred, it would not be surprising if other similar style tokens are located eventually.

The Breuners tokens listed as Ala 65 B21-B24 were used probably in another fashion. When a bride registered at the Breuners Bridal Registry, she was given a token stamped with a number which coincided with her number on the Bridal Registry. The brides were able to redeem the tokens on future purchases. In a letter from Breuners, it is reported that these tokens were used for about ten years and were discontinued during World War II. The tokens listed by Album span the period from 1936 through 1940--note that a token dated for 1939 is lacking. This is only a five year span compared to the ten year span mentioned by the company, so there may be earlier dated tokens found or perhaps the company recollections are not completely accurate. The 1936 token has an expiration date of Aug. 1st, while the other three pieces have expiration dates of Dec. 31. All of the pieces have stamped incuse numbers on the obverse.

In 1904, the firm opened a store at 281 Geary Street, near Powell, but this was destroyed by the earthquake and fire of 1906 and the Geary Street store was not opened again until 1910. In 1906, just after the devastation in San Francisco, John Breuner managed to open two stores, one at 1451 Van Ness Avenue and the other in the Mission District at 2141 Mission Street. Today Breuners main office is located in Oakland at 2201 Broadway.

BOOKS

= NEVADA TRADE TOKEN PLACE NAMES =

A brand new listing of places in Nevada from which trade tokens, or closely associated items, are known is provided by "Nevada Trade Token Place Names" by Hal V. Dunn and Duane H. Felsel. The data are presented in a format similar to that used for the listing of California trade token place names.

Consisting of 52 pages bound in an attractively printed card cover, the listing covers 197 place names associated with tokens. Obverse and reverse rubbings of 119 rare and unusual Nevada tokens augment the text. A county outline map for the state helps to place the various towns, military bases, places, etc. A rarity rating applied to each place from which an old token is known may be converted to a valuation through a table which is provided.

The booklet is priced at $3.00 per copy, postpaid. Orders may be placed with Hal V. Dunn, P.O. Box 114, Carson City, NV 89701 or with Duame H. Feisel, P.O. Box 1302, Los Altos, CA 94022.

Collecting by place is a popular way of collecting merchant trade tokens, and this method of collecting seems to be very popular for the western states. It is anticipated that trade tokens place name listings for the states of Oregon and Washington will be available in the near future.

= CATALOGUE OF ILLINOIS TRADE TOKENS =

Added to the growing list of states for which catalogues of merchant trade tokens have been prepared is Illinois with the work done by Ore H. Vacketta. This new catalogue is expected to be delivered from the printers on about January 15. Orders received prior to February 1 will be filled for $10.00 per copy, postpaid, after that date the price will be $12.50 per copy, postpaid. Orders may be sent to Ore H. Vacketta, P.O. Box 3, Mestville, IL 61883.

The book will have hard covers with buckram binding. Consisting of a total of 368 pages, the listing of tokens is supplemented with an extensive index of mavericks, obverse and reverse photographs of over 300 tokens, an introduction and several short articles concerning Illinois tokens by other authors.

Tokens are listed by place, alphabetically. The county in which the place is or was located is given when known. Each token is given a catalogue number and a rarity rating; a table allows one to convert the rarity rating to price.

The pool of information on merchant trade tokens is greatly expanded by the listings in this catalogue.

CALIFORNIA $20.00 GOLD PIECE 1851 Baldwin

The Baldwin $20 Gold Piece was one of the first of that denomination evissued in California. And for a year, the private mint of Baldwin & Co. turned them out in vast numbers. They appealed to the Californian's sense of patrolism—by using engravings of the Goddess of Liberty head. .. the symbolic American eagle ... the 13 stars representing the original Colonies.

Private California mints came into existence during the 1800's because the territory was isolated from the centers of commerce— and the standard medium of exchange consisted of hides and cattle. Normal business would have broken down completely had it not been for the fact that following the discovery of gold, enterprising men took matters into their own hands and started producing private. issue coins.

THE TRIPLE THREAT TOKEN

By Leo A. Weilbacher, Jr., METCA #223

The East St. Louis, Columbia & Waterloo Railroad Company began operating between East St. Louis, Illinois and Waterloo, Illinois on December 12, 1912. After leaving East St. Louis, the car would make stops and pick up passengers at Cahokia, Prairie du Pont, Dupo, Columbia, Coxeyville and Waterloo. The car took an hour and fifteen minutes to make the run one way. One of the cars is pictured below.

The last stop before arriving at Waterloo on the southbound run was the Coxeyville Station. Coxeyville, Illinois consisted of about four homes, a tavern and the car stop. Clarence Buss was one of the owners of the tavern at the car stop. Buss issued an octagon-shaped aluminum token, shown below, good for 10¢ in trade. This Buss token issued as a trade token at a car stop tavern makes it a triple-threat token.

4 WEEKS IN SUCCESSION

By Paul M. Dillingham, METCA #266

The information hidden by the cast-off maverick is often more interesting, when known, than that of a well known, widely-used token. When I first found the brass token, a rubbing of which is shown below, for $1.00 in trade with the unusual '4 weeks in succession,' many thoughts came to my mind, even the possibility of a genuine brothel token! Alas, not so romantic, but one less maverick to identify.

About 500 of these were struck in 1933 by B. M. Hershman of Gary, Indiana. Mr. Hershman sold dry goods from door to door over an established route. The tokens were disributed to his customers who would buy from him for 4 consecutive weeks. He then redeemed them with the customer's choice of one dollar's worth of his merchandise. Most all of the original pieces were distributed. The illustrated token came to light with a handful of others when Mr. Hershman recently sold some of his household goods.

ONE-OF-A-KIND AWARD MEDALS

By Shawnee Gordon, METCA #230

Collectors of both tokens and coins strive to collect rare pieces such as the 1913 "Miss Liberty," rarity 10 Civil War Tokens, Indian peace medals, etc. Some examples of rare pieces are the one-of-a-kind award medals. Pictured is an award medal given to W.H.Baker.in 1911 for the best 8 boxes of Gravensteins by the Gravenstein Apple Show Association at Sebastopol. Sonoma County, California.

Another one-of-a-kind award medal was given to the Acme Bath Mfg. Co. for the best bath cabinet. It was awarded by the California State Agricultural Society. (By the way, what is, or was, a bath cabinet?)

Second Annual

NATIONAL TOKEN, MEDAL, and EXONUMIA COLLECTORS JAMBOREE

March 22-24, 1974 Le Baron Hotel San Jose, California General Chairman DUANE H. FEISEL P. O. Box 1302 LOS ALTOS CA 9402

Tel: 415-941-2690

= COLLECTOR INFORMATION =

Hours: 10AM to 7 PM Friday and Saturday, 10 AM to 5 PM Sunday

- Auction: Friday, March 22, 7 PM; conducted by Paul L. Koppenhaver, P.O. Box 430, Van Nuys, CA 91408
- Bourse: Dealers from all parts of the country will offer a wide variety of material.

 The large bourse and display room will permit ample aisles and space at the tables. A limited number of bourse tables are still available; inquire.
- Exhibits: A number of interesting displays are already arranged for, but additional displays are welcomed. The displays are non-competitive. Please ask for an exhibitor's application if you are interested. Featured will be a special Exonumia Library display where one can examine a number of exonumia books, catalogues and publications. Another special display will show a range of Contemporary Exonumia including tokens, medals, ingots, plates, silver bars, philatelic-numismatic combinations, etc. Authors, publishers, producers and distributors are invited to contribute items for these displays. The Franklin Mint will have a large display and will have showings of M movies.
- Banquet: Saturday, March 23; cocktails 6:30 PM, dinner 7:30 PM. The registration fee includes a banquet ticket. Additional banquet tickets are $9.00 each. A drink token is given with each banquet ticket. Many door-prizes of exonumia books, catalogues, medals, tokens, etc., will be given at the banquet.
- Meetings: Arrangements have been made to hold meetings of the Bay Area Token Society, the California-Nevada Token Society, the American Tax Token Society, the Society of Ration Token Collectors, the Civil War Token Society and the Merchant Token Collectors Association. Invitations have been extended to other Culbs. The meeting room is located adjacent to the bourse/display area.
- Social Room: A special meeting room located immedediately adjacent to the bourse/ display room will be open to registered collectors only for socializing. Limited trading, buying and selling will be permitted on a one-to-one basis.
- Registration: The registration fee of $15 includes admission to all Jamboree events, a banquet ticket, a drink token, three $1 trade tokens valid with the bourse dealers present and a special badge. Early bird registrations before March 1 will cost only $12.00.
- Sleeping Rooms: Please ask for a special room reservation request card which will provide you with special rates (approximately $5.00 less than regular) at the Le Baron; the special rates of $17 single, $22 twin or double, $35 suite are available only when your request is made on the special card I can furnish.

WE HAVE LESS THAN 12 COLORADO CATALOGS LEFT: THERE WILL NOT BE A SECOND PRINTING.

A SUPPLEMENT to the catalog will be published if we receive enough new listings. If you have questions about the present listings, or have unlisted tokens, please let us know.

THE WAY OF A COLLECTION

An acquaintance of mine from Seattle, a Mr. Robert V. Lamb is a collector of medals (military orders) from all the foreign nations of the world. He had within his collection a large group of Third Reich decorations and badges which he advertised for sale. Late in December of 1973 Mr. Lamb received a phone call from a Morris Zavits, of Delano and Keith, Inc. in Plymouth, Mass. who said that his boss, a Mr. Charles T. Sanderson III wanted to purchase the collection as a Christmas gift for his son. It was urgent for the collection to be received for Christmas, so in good faith Mr. Lamb mailed the collection (insured and registered) to Massachusetts and as agreed over the phone, received a check for $1,215.00 from Delano & Keith Inc. signed by Mr. Charles Sanderson.

Mr. Lamb deposited the check with his Seattle bank only to have it returned as having no funds to cover the amount. The check was held ten days by Mr. Sandersons' bank awaiting funds for its coverage before being returned to Mr. Lamb.

Mr. Lamb, in a letter to Mr. Sanderson, then requested the collection be returned. Mr. Sanderson did not respond to the letter nor did he answer any of Mr. Lambs phone calls which followed the letter. Mr. Lamb re-submitted the check in Feb. of 1974 with negative results.

I am writing this article for the benefit of those METCA who also deal with medals and orders. Ray Nadreau

THE GAMBLING TOKENS OF PARK CITY, UTAH

By Joe J. Davich, METCA #226

A history book written about the once-famous silver-producing mass of Park City, Utah would make highly interesting reading indeed. Mining journals and old files record the wealth brought to the surface by the many mines in operation all at one time, the stories of the twenty four millionaires who left Park City, stories of the many ethnic groups that lived there, stories of the early merchants and the tokens that they need.

Park City, Utah was located some thirty miles east of Salt Lake City. At one time at least thirty saloons flourished on the Main Street of Park City, not to mention the various gambling houses which also enjoyed good business. Prohibition came to Utah, however, earlier than many other states, in August, 1917. Many saloon and gambling houses closed their doors forever and those that remained in business came to be known as pool halls, billiard halls and soft drink parlors.

I have many tokens in my large Park City collection and each token has a history of its own. The set of so-called 'gambling tokens' of 'The Club' is most unique. In the early saloons and gambling halls of Park City, the medium of exchange for gambling was gold and silver. For his everyday business, the merchant made use of the 2½¢, 5¢, 6½¢, 10¢ and 12½¢ tokens and in some places the 25¢ piece. In the early 1920's 'The Club' was issued a Merchant's license and also a Soft Drink Parlor license. The management had gambling tables but couldn't afford to accept good U.S. currency while the games were in progress, as a heavy fine and possible jail sentence would ensue in case the local authorities made a raid. So the management ordered from the stamping company the following set of tokens to be used at the gambling tables: The 25¢, 50¢, $1.00, $5.00 and $10.00. The 25¢ token was of white metal while the balance of the set was struck in brass.

Each token carried the name, "The Club," on the obverse while on the reverse was written the exact valuation. If one wanted to participate in a particular game of chance, he would give the dealer U.S. money which was immediately placed in a locked drawer at the table. The customer then received tokens in exchange, and at no time could he make a bet or play with U.S. money. No credit was extended while gambling, this being the house rules. After the games were closed for the evening, the dealer would inventory all the tokens, then place them in a special cabinet or safe. Each token had a 2 mm hole drilled through, as each token was hung on a special metal peg for safe storage and complete inventory at all times. The tokens of 'The Club' could be taken to one of the local banks, and the banker or teller issued U.S. money for that particular token or for whatever the full amount might be.. The management had a firm agreement at the banks to issue cash for any of its tokens. During the week when the manager did his banking, he paid the bank for any of his tokens either with check or U.S. money. A most unusual arrangement, but this practice was carried on for quite some time and it was known as a 'gentleman's agreement.'

The year 1929 came with the great stock market crash and the depression years followed. The time came when gambling ceased and the unique tokens had served their purpose. Several bags of tokens were placed in a storage room and left untouched until the coming of World War II and the important scrap drives. The owner, being a patriotic citizen, donated the bags of tokens to this worthy cause. As luck would have it, some of the tokens remained stored in a cigar box and while interviewing the owner some years ago, I was able to acquire for my collection what few tokens remained of the original order.

The owner of "The Club" was a highly-respected business man and citizen of the community and operated the same business until a couple of years ago, at which time he was called to his eternal reward, passing the age of eighty some years. Today this same building stands erect, its doors closed at the present time. It was built around the turn of the century shortly after the huge fire of Park City, in 1898, which destroyed about 75% of the mining camp. If the walls of "The Club" could make but a whisper, what history they could reveal. Space does not permit further history on this building which from the year of 1904 was known as a saloon but this story comes to a close on the unique gambling tokens of Park City, Utah.

THE GRUHLER SALOON TOKENS

By Shawnee Gordon, METCA #230

What, if anything, do the two tokens (shown below) have in common besides the name and the fact that they are both saloon tokens? The Civil War token, listed by Fuld 165-E. Cincinnati, Ohio, has the name GRUHLERS, but is listed under the name F. ARNOLD at 470 Vine St. The octagonal piece has the name JACOB GRUHLER PROP. at 1014 J. Street. Perhaps F. Arnold bought Gruhlers, taking the name to a new location for his saloon. The Gruhler octagonal piece is almost florid in style and I wonder if it was made in a more leisurely time than the Civil War period allowed? Was it made first? One would assume so, dating it to pre-Civil War, since there is still a Gruhlers as stated on the Civil War token but with Mr. Arnold added. Perhaps F. Arnold was Mr. Gruhler's son-in-law.

Is there still a Gruhlers? I would appreciate hearing from any of our members who might have some information on Gruhlers Gilt Edge Saloon or Gruhlers Garden Concert Saloon.

THE CORNER BAR

By J. W. Baum. METCA #289

Welcome, stranger. So you're new to the city? Well, there's no place to meet people easier than at the Corner Bar. I'm Joe, the bartender. Climb on a stool and while I'm mixing your drink, I'll point out some of the customers. You might want to make their acquaintance.

The Latin-type fellow standing at the end of the bar is Ron Rico. He's from Texas and drinks nothing but rum from Puerto Rico. Personally, the drink is kind of sweet for my taste. The two fellows over in the front booth are Mr. Park and Mr. Tilford. They are always together and around here we call them 'the partners.' They both come from Kentucky, drink American Bourbon, and among their other business enterprises seem to be interested in thoroughbred race horses. They may gamble some, always looking for 'A winner at the right price.'

The old gent in the right rear corner booth is James E. Pepper. Claims he was born with the Republic, and can count his friends generation after generation. Just this side of Mr. Pepper, in booth number 4, is another fine old Southern gentleman, Mr. I. W. Harper. Some say he was a colonel when he was in Louisville. He drinks his bourbon straight and always wants it 100 proof. The jaunty fellow in the plaid vest there at the front table is Johnnie Walker. He comes in here sometimes to dope out the football cards. He's a great rooter for the New York Jets. Drinks Scotch whiskey though, not too much different from American bourbon but it does have a kind of smoky taste.

The quiet gentleman at the second table, right behind Johnnie, is Mr. Seagram. He comes from Lawrenceburg, Indiana. I used to think he must be from England, because he always orders gin and tonic. You know that British drink that is made out of juniper berries and smells sort of like perfume. He's a man who will gamble with you to see if you pay for the drinks or if he will. At the rear table is Old Fitzgerald. We call him Old Fitz. I don't think he is as old as he appears or would like you to think. He drinks either 86 proof or 100 proof whiskey and is a soft touch about buying a fellow a drink.

The mascot? Well, you might say we have two of them. The bird is our good luck piece. We call him Old Crow. The golfers who trade here swear that if he gives a caw when they stop by on their way to the links, they will always know where their ball is. The old duffer there with the broom and top hat? He's our porter and a kind of mascot too. Seems some sleight-of-hand artist bought him a drink once. Told him it was Green River Whiskey, the whiskey without regrets. Now that's all the old man will ask for. Of course he'll drink anything that's free. I don't think there ever was a whiskey with that brand name, there sure isn't now any-way.

Well, stranger, come again. We have all kinds pass through here and I'm sure you'd like to meet some of them. There's no better place to meet people than at the corner bar.

NOT GOOD IF DETACHED

The reason I am writing this article is not to promote the collecting of coupon books (or coupons) by their serial numbers, but to argue the worthlessness of a pile of detached coupons.

I can across the F. L. Riley Mercantile Co. coupons from a man who deals in antiques. He had bought out the old Riley store and the coupons were detached and in groups; bound by narer clips. The only thing to attribute the coupons besides his word, was a printing order number card with the wording - 10721 / F. L. Riley Mercantile Co. / New Hebron, Miss. - in black letters across the red card.

With the coupons attributed to Miss., I felt it would be worthwhile to spend some time on this subject answering some questions.

First of all, since all of the coupons were detached, the value of the book and how many of each denomination (5 cent, 10 cent, 25 cent) were in one book, was not known.

Well, to tackle this problem, I first determined a few facts to base my answers. The first thing I realized was each book had only one number and each of the coupons had the same number on them. Secondly, all the books had different numbers. Finally, (although this is the weakest surmise) that I had the majority of the coupons that were used for a certain period of time.

I started by sorting the coupons by denominations - 5 cent coupons in one stack, 10 cent coupons in another, and 25 cent coupons in still another. Then I undertook the task of sorting each denomination by their numbers. In doing this, I found the amount of each denomination with the same number. Thus, going by my initial surmises, I had determined the amount of coupons (I had) that came from each of the serial numbered books. For example: The amount of 5 cent coupons that I had that came from book Number 02371 was 9.

Now, in order to determine the book's value, to reconstruct the books, I simply found the largest amount of coupons of each denomination and this was also the number of coupons of a particular denomination contained in a book (controlled by the validity of my last surmise).

The results were as follows:

DENOMINATION

AMT. PER BOOK

- (a) 5 cent coupons 15 or $.75 (as exhibited by Number 01421 and others)
- (b) 10 cent coupons 20 or $2.00 (as exhibited by Number 01425 and others)
- (c) 25 cent coupons 15 or $3.75 (as exhibited by Number 04718 and others).

So, the F. L. Riley Mercantile Co. coupon books had at least 50 coupons at a value of $6.50. From this information, one should not conclude that the books had a $6.50 value on them; just that per the information at my disposal, I have shown that they were worth at least that amount - but who knows, some day other coupons may show up or even the complete books themselves and prove that the books had a greater value.

Also, it can feasibly be imagined that the book had 10 bages of coupons, () bages of 5 cent coupons, 4 bages of 10 cent coupons, and 3 bages of 25 cent coupons) going by the fact that the vast majority of the coupons were perforated in columns of five, with the bottom coupon being imperforated on bottom.

Purthermore, as I mentioned in the beginning of this article, the coupons were in groups bound by paper clips. This seems to exemplify the fact that the coupons played a large role in the bookkeeping procedures of the company using them. Each group was probably the proceeds for one period of time (perhaps one day or week - although it would probably be safer to say for one day, considering the amount of money represented).

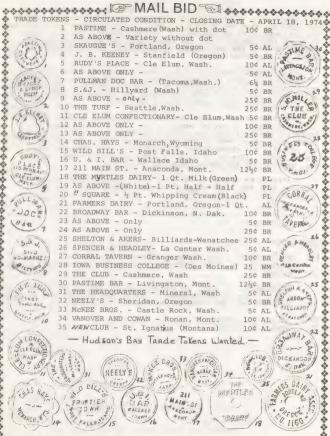

Although Mr. Riley (if he were alive today) would not agree, I assert that the coupons are still good even though they are detached!

OUR APOLOGIES TO EDDY HILL METCA 311

We offer our apologies to Eddy M. Hill, METCA #311, of Bossier City, Louisiana. We left his name off the article that he authored, 'Not Good If Detached,' in the April, 1974 issue, page 54 of TRADE TOKEN TOPICS.

CORRECTION TO 'GOVERNMENT SCRIP'

By C. E. Ziegler, Jr., METCA #404

In the July 1973 issue of TRADE TOKEN TOPICS, page 76, a short article described a new change-making policy by the Government Printing Office in the form of 5 cent coupons, one of which was pictured with the article. I had used these coupons in the late 1950's and 1960's and knew that it was not a new policy. In response to an inquiry to the U.S. Government Printing Office, I received the following letter from W.H. Lewis, attesting to the fact that the Documents Coupons have been in use since 1925:

(Copy of letter on next page)

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE WASHINGTON, D.C., 20402

March 21, 1974

Mr. C. E. Ziegler, Jr. 2705 Grace Road Port Huron, Michigan 48060

Dear Mr. Ziegler:

This is in response to your recent letter concerning Documents Compons.

Our first record of the sale of Documents Coupons was in 1925. From 1925 through 1971, only five cent denomination coupons were sold. In fiscal year 1972 the coupons were issued in 5, 10, 25 and 30 cent denominations. These are good until used for purchasing Government publications available for sale by this Office.

I hope this information is helpful.

Sincerely yours,

Assistant Public Printer (Superintendent Documents)

THIS COUPON WILL BE RECEIVED IN LIEB OF FIVE CENTS IN EXCHANGE FOR PUBLIC DOCUMENTS ONLY BY THE SUperintendent's Document's Superintendent's Public Gorge.

THE TOKEN COLLECTOR & THE STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY By Joe J. Davich, METCA #226

Many collectors could tell some interesting stories of how tokens found their way into their collections. I am sure that most collectors would agree that many of their tokens came from non-collectors. In many instances just collecting a token isn't enough; research of the merchant who issued the token is a necessity. History, however, is often more difficult to locate than a token.

I can suggest a means of unearthing historical items by relating my experiences with the Historical Society. Many collectors don't take advantage of the rich source of token information offered by groups of this type. In April of 1973 a very good friend of mine, who is a member of the Utah State Historical Society, invited me to one of their local meetings. This particular group was from the Valley Chapter of the Utah State Historical Society here in Salt Lake City. I gave them my free time to lecture on my specialty of mining town tokens of Utah plus a display of over 100 tokens from Park City, Utah, and some 55 pieces of Utah coal scrip. Many 'old-timers' were present that evening and before the end of the evening, I had gained a lot of knowledge of the Utah towns, as they recalled the days when tokens were used extensively in Utah. To my surprise a fine old gentleman approached me and donated a piece of coal scrip which I didn't have in my collection. In addition I made many new friends and contacts, and now have many of this group on the alert for tokens that are my specialty.

Later I received a telephone call from the Historian of the Utah State Historical Society, asking me to display my Utah collection, and to answer questions at their yearly meeting held in September, 1973. Also during this full day's agenda, a fine bottle collection and barbed wire collection were on display. I felt that this invitation was quite an honor and once again new friends were made. Quite possibly some member might donate a token to my collection. To my knowledge no member of this Society is a token collector. As the old-timer mentioned to me, tokens should be in the hands of a collector who enjoys and appreciates their beauty and the history related to them.

Possibly many of you collectors know members of your particular Historical Society. It requires a few hours of time, but I feel certain that the dividends would be most rewarding. Editors Note: Some collectors have suggested the use of standard terms for merchant tokens. Mr. Norman Williams, METCA 245 submits for consideration the terms and symbols made standard by the Canadian Numismatic Research Society. We invite comments on this system. (Mext issue

= NEVADA TRADE TOKEN PLACE NAMES =

A brand new listing of places in Nevada from which trade tokens, or closely associated items, are known is provided by "Nevada Trade Token Place Names" by Hal V. Dunn and Duane H. Peisel. The data are presented in a format similar to that used for the listing of California trade token place names.

consisting of 52 pages bound in an attractively printed card cover, the listing covers 197 place names associated with tokens. Obverse and reverse rubbings of 119 rare and unusual Nevada tokens augment the text. A county outline map for the state helps to place the various towns, military bases, places, etc. A rarity rating applied to each place from which an old token is known may be converted to a valuation through a table which is provided.

The booklet is priced at $3.00 per copy, postpaid. Orders may be placed with Hal V. Dunn, P.O. Box 114, Carson City, NV 89701 or with Duane H. Feisel, P.O. Box 1302, Los Altos, CA 94022.

Collecting by place is a popular way of collecting merchant trade tokens, and this method of collecting seems to be very popular for the western states. It is anticipated that trade tokens place name listings for the states of Oregon and Washington will be available in the near future.

= CATALOGUE OF ILLINOIS TRADE TOKENS =

Added to the growing list of states for which catalogues of merchant trade tokens have been prepared is Illinois with the work done by Ore H. Vacketta. This new catalogue is expected to be delivered from the printers on about January 15. Orders received prior to February 1 will be filled for $10.00 per copy, postpaid, after that date the price will be $12.50 per copy, postpaid. Orders may be sent to Ore H. Vacketta, P.O. Box 3, Westville, IL 61883.

The book will have hard covers with buckram binding. Consisting of a total of 368 pages, the listing of tokens is supplemented with an extensive index of mavericks, obverse and reverse photographs of over 300 tokens, an introduction and several short articles concerning Illinois tokens by other authors.

Tokens are listed by place, alphabetically. The county in which the place is or was located is given when known. Each token is given a catalogue number and a rarity rating; a table allows one to convert the rarity rating to price.

The pool of information on merchant trade tokens is greatly expanded by the listings in this catalogue.

PUBLISHERS' NOTES

COLLECTION STOLEN

Virginia King, METCA #127, writes us that a friend of hers in Fort Wayne, Indiana was robbed of nearly $5,000 worth of coins and tokens on April 11, 1974. Her husband, who had been a coin dealer, had passed away not too long ago and in her bereavement, she had not disposed of the items. Among · the items that were stolen were foreign coins, silver dollars. proof sets and a quantity of Scottish Communion tokens. In this day and age when people travel from one end of the country to the other, it is quite possible that some of our members might have spotted the communion tokens at a flea market or coin show. They were in 2 x 2 holders. The description in red ink was written on the four corners of the holders with the price written in pencil. If anyone has seen a quantity of anything of this kind, Mrs. King wishes to be informed. Her address: Virginia King, R6, Rd 650W, Columbia City, Indiana 46725.

STREAKING TOKEN

By Dick Grinolds, METCA #218

With the fad of 'streaking' finding widespread popularity lately, this 1947 German token shows that streaking is not just a 1974 phenomenon. The reverse roughly translates to 'I bring you luck in the New Year.' Actually it reminds me of myself after a couple of recent trades I made!

GOOD FOR $1.00 ON A TIRE By Charles Robinson, METCA #82

Recently while rummaging in an old junk store, I was thrilled to find a large and unusual token from my home town of Austin, Minnesota. I had never seen a token good toward purchase of a tire. But even more unusual was that it advertised the Nash and Paige autos, now gone into history, and the famous Hart-Parr tractors made in nearby Charles City, Iowa, and this tractor has also vanished. Advertising buttons and watch fobs of the Hart-Parr are eagerly sought by collectors.

Having no memory of the Motor Inn, I set out to find the history of the company, and was able to find one of the mechanics who had worked for the garage. It had been one of the pioneer auto companies in Austin and in 1928, the last year of business, was owned by Elmer Hopfe. When I asked why the company had gone out of business, I was told that the tornado which had struck Austin on August 20, 1928 had completely demolished the Motor Inn and it was never rebuilt. All that remains of the memory today is a photo and a token. This token rates a special place in my collection.

'MOTOR INN' AFTER 1928 TORNADO, AUSTIN, MINN.

CHIMACUM, WHERE?

By Lewis L. Egnew, METCA #210

Approximately ten miles south of Port Townsend on the Olympic Peninsula in the state of Washington is a crossroads, a simple intersection, one road going north and south, the other east and west. This is Chimacum, Washington. Its closest brush with fame, probably, is the fact that Betty McDonald lived nearby when she wrote 'The Egg and I,' best seller a number of years ago.

Of course, back in 1855 when William Eldridge left the British Man-of-war Monarch, and hiked inland through the tall forests from the Straits of Juan de Fuca, there was no town. There was only the small prairie locally known as Chimacum Prairie after the tribe of Chimacum Indians who inhabited the area. Eldridge established a homestead of 320 acres which with the natural pasturage soon became a dairy farm and prospered from the start. By 1877 the account books for the year show 6,881 pounds of butter sold for $2,619.24. Though the same year, one week the net profits amounted to only $1.87%. In the 1880's the name ELDRIDGE DAIRY was formally adopted. When Mr. William Eldridge died in 1902 at the age of 72, the dairy was left to his son, Charles Eldridge, who in turn left it to his son and finally the fourth generation of Eldridges, Mr. Howard Eldridge, became owner and operator.

By this time the dairy was a large enterprise and the products were sold in Port Townsend, Irondale, Hadlock and other smaller towns as well as Chimacum proper. In 1923, tokens came into use. There were two types, a one-quart scalloped aluminum, and a one-pint round aluminum, but the bookkeeping involved caused their discontinuance after a short period of time. Older people recalled them, but all were supposedly destroyed when the dairy ceased operations in the 1940's.

When I became a token collector, the pursuit of this elusive token became a challenge. Apparently no one had saved a single example. The more I searched, the more I wondered did they say Chimacum, Wash. on them? This is a nearly impossible 'town' to collect and it would be a real find to come up with even one token. Word of my search spread and a year or two had gone by with no luck at all. Then one evening a gentleman knocked on my door and when I answered, he. asked me, 'Are these what you are looking for?' as he placed a number of bright shiny tokens into my palm. One glance and I knew my search for this particular token was over. Here were my ELDRIDGE DAIRY tokens, but they were mavericks, without the town and state on them, only a phone number. However they were most welcome to my collection as a new town. The tokens were soon mine and the gentleman was no less than the retired Mr. Eldridge himself, and these were his 'keepsake tokens' to recall his days and years in the dairy industry.

So the next time you see a lowly maverick token, don't turn away from it. Perhaps it has a story to tell from some small out-of-the-way place.

WANTED

Collectors interested in exchanging information, stories and background of tokens and medals from banks; on an informal basis.

We will start by sending you a list of bank exonumia known to us. Hopefully, YOU will add to and help expand our listing until all concerned have a good, fairly representative listing of material from banks.

Who says you get nothing for nothing? If you are interested, write.

PUBLISHERS' NOTES

UNSOLICITED MATERIAL

The following note was sent to us by Dan Jacobson, METCA #301: 'I have been receiving several packages of UNSOLICITED and UNASKED for material in the mail lately. I would appreciate it if you would print something in the Journal stating that I find this OBJECTIONABLE! It puts a responsibility on me that I don't want and I'm getting sick and tired of it.'

(Editors Note: Dan said this very well) Most collectors I talk to take a dim view of receiving packages of unsolicited material in the mail. Dan speeks for a lot of collectors.

TOKEN AND MEDAL SOCIETY (TAMS)

With TAMS elections not too far away I would like to plug this fine organization with the hopes that some of the new collectors in METCA will consider joining it. TAMS is an organization that covers almost all exonumia. It was in existance many years before various splinter organizations formed and is considered by many as the parent collectors organization. The TAMS Journal in my opinion is the most beautiful token publication published. It carries all types of token listings and stories and is well worth the yearly membership fee of $6.00 (Its token listings are worth more than that). For information on joining, write to me or to Byron Johnson, METCA 21. Byron is this years TAMS president, I think he did a great job. This years candidates will have their work cut out to match his fine record.

SALOONS

by Ed Saunders, METCA #136

It seems that the magic word among the token collectors of today is the word 'Saloon.' Not too many years ago, the saloon token was no more than any other token, but times have changed and it seems to be the trend of this age. Indeed the word 'saloon' made our Western frontier come to life. It was an establishment that was found in the dryest or coldest places. no matter how remote. If gold was discovered, the saloon was only a step behind in the newly-built gold camp that followed. It meant riches to the ones who knew how to use the angles. The saloons' sawdust floors often held more of the miner's gold than did his pouches. Whiskey was one way to get the hard-working man to relax and release himself, often with the loss of his earnings and possibly his life. Many a lively time has roared through the halls of a now silent saloon; the shots of a gun and the loss of a life were often common events in these establishments.

Even the very small towns boasted of having several saloons. One such town is Keswick, California. Today it is a town of possibly a dozen houses, but at one time let everyone know that there were 30 saloons there. Other towns were hardly more than stops in the road, yet what more likely a place than for a saloon? Often there might be one general merchandise store and half a dozen saloons in a town of only two hundred inhabitants.

Many of the early day saloon tokens were very attractive. There were many that never used the word saloon on them. However the ones that have the word saloon on them seem to be the tokens that the collectors prize among their finds. One that I was very grateful to get is a token from Castella, California, a little town along the Sacramento River, high in the mountains and only a short way from my home town. Often a town or a saloon token that brings a spark to your eye will mean little to another collector because his collecting interests are not along the same line. A token collector in Oregon, however, might find a saloon token from Texas and admire the workmanship put into producing such a fine token. All of us have admired some token from another man's collection just because of the art work on it

Some saloons are an expression of the times that they represent. Such names as The Elite, The Gem, Monarch, The Royal, The White Front, Water Front, Gold Dust, Bella Union, Mirror, Olympic, Palace, White House, Tea Kettle, Idle Hour, or even The Miner's Saloon. While to others the towns named on the tokens ring with excitement: Boise, Idaho; Bisbee, Arizona; Hot Springs, Arkansas; Ogden, Utah; Needles, California; Weston, Oregon; New York City; or Quincy, Washington. From California to Montana or from New York to Nebraska, the saloon token seems to be gaining in popularity.

Many of the saloon tokens shown here have interesting bits of history behind them. A ghost town token is the one that reads 'Turf Saloon, Millers, Nev.' While Beaver Hill may not have been a large place, or in the heart of the mother lode, it is known as one of Oregon's few Coal Mining camps. Jim McCutcheon, whose name is on the token, is listed as the only businessman in the 1913 Coos County Business Directory. Another token shown here is from Klamathon, California. This town existed for only a few short years. It began in the late 1880's, was known as Mantees for a short while, but was soon established with a postoffice under the name of Klamath City. By 1890 it was changed to Cadillac and in a very short time to Pokegama, and in 1897 it changed again to Klamathon. The town had several big fires at various times in its history. It had been renamed Klamathon for only 6 months when fire broke out again taking several businesses and homes. Worse yet, it was only 4 years later when the entire town was destroyed by fire, never to be rebuilt.

Other towns like Coram and Kennett in California disappeared when Shasta Lake flooded that area of northern California. The saloons themselves diappeared in 1918 when prohibition became law. The saloons in some states disappeared even earlier such as in Oregon where they were outlawed as early as 1915. The word saloon has again become a legal term to use on a drinking establishment, but this did not take place until the early 1970's. All in all the saloon as we know it has not been around for a good 60 years, which fact might explain the reasons that saloon tokens are so popular. Some of these tokens date back even to Civil War times, but most of them are of the 1890 to 1918 vintage. They represent a thirty- year period in this country when things were dawning for. a new way of life. The horse would be replaced by the auto and man wouldn't sit on the front porch swing and stare at the moon, but would go there and stare at the front porch of the universe. No matter what the reasons, the Saloon token is the hobby of many of today's collectors. What tomorrow will bring is anybody's guess.

By Lee Nott, METCA #6

In the past two weeks I have been offered a couple of tokens that are not authentic old tokens. Both were offered by the same dealer, and at prices in the $5 range. These tokens are: CAMP GOLDFIELD, COLO. - 12½¢ - round, brass; and FLORENCE AND CRIPPLE CREEK RAILROAL (COLO) - 1 Adult Passage - round, brass. Many members will remember that Duane Feisel warned us about these a few months ago. Don't be misled by some dealer's comments!

A few members have remarked to me in the past few months how they intend to drop out of the METCA organization within the next year. Some past members have also told me their reasons. It all boils down to a dislike for the monthly newspaper we have. In order for any organization to accomplish the goals and commitments it has, every member has to do their own share. I would like to suggest:

- Take an active role in the organization. Pick out what you do not like, and let the responsible person know about it. If you do not like the newspaper, let Ray know why.
 - 2. Write an article for publication. We have a great opportunity to publish important information within four weeks time. I know of no other organization that can provide such good service. Articles about any merchant tokens are welcome, and I'm sure Ray would appreciate having a group to choose from.
 - 3. Talk up the benefits of belonging to METCA. Where else can you get a monthly publication that comes out on the first of EVERY month? Where else can you get full page advertising for so little price? Where else do you get announcements of current and projected conventions and token gatherings? Let's talk up the positive points!

In a few short weeks the Token and Medal Society will have its elections. There are several METCA members running for office in TAMS. For those of us who are members of both organizations, I would like to suggest that if you can not decide who to vote for, vote foe a TOKEN COLLECTOR.

TAMS MEMBERS IN METCA

This year for the first time you are able to cast a ballot by mail for your officers and directors. No longer will a handful of members attending the ANA convention control the voting. Please make sure you cast your ballot!

You can help make TAMS an organization more oriented toward the collector by voting for

DUANE H. FEISEL PRESIDENT

Please note also that there are a number of METCA members running for the Board of Governors. I am sure that these collectors will also appreciate your vote: Stephen Album, Chriss Christiansen, Forrest Dunham, Hal Dunh, Charles Littlefield, H. Lee Nott, and David Schenkman. You can vote for 10, but unless you really want to cast a vote for someone, you can vote for fewer.

UNUSUAL 'GOOD FOR'

By Dan M. Jacobson, METCA #301

I thought this was an unusual 'good for.' It's printed on wood. The 20 dollar gold piece is printed in gold. The words ' N^O ' and '350' as well as 'William G. Sunken's Gold Script' are printed in red and the rest is in black. The printing establishment is no longer in business. Since the 500 that were made were printed on fragile wood, I doubt that there are many still around.

JAMBORFF FAST 1974

= GENERAL INFORMATION =

After two highly successful Jamborees held in California in the spring of 1973 and 1974, the Jamboree is being brought east for the convenience of those collectors living on the Atlantic coast and in the mid-west. The long term plans are to hold two Jamborees each year--the spring on the west coast and the fall on the east coast.

JAMBOREF RAST 1974 will he held on October 4-6, 1974, at the Hotel Mebster Hall, 4415 Fifth Avenue, Pättsburgh, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh is conveniently located for those attending from the east coast and from the mid-west. The Webster Hall is a fine old hotel located in the cultural district of Oakland in Pittsburgh; many coin shows have been held in the Webster Hall.

The main attraction of the Jamboree will be a fine selection of bourse dealers specializing in tokens and medals. Space is available for up to 26 dealers. The bourse will be open from 10 AM through 6 PM on Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5. On Sunday, October 6, the hours are 10 AM through 5 PM.

Another attraction will be a variety of displays of exonumia material placed by collectors. Displays will be by invitation only (please ask for a display application if you are interested) and will be non-competitive; each exhibitor will be diven a special award.

On Friday evening the Jamboree banquet will be held, and many door prizes will be awarded. Your registration fee will include a banquet ticket; additional tickets are priced at $10 each.

On Saturday evening, a floor auction of a wide variety of exonumia material will be conducted by H. Joseph Levine of Presidential Coin and Antique Company, 6222 Little River Turnpike, Alexandria, VA 22312, Please contact Mr. Levine directly for further information, catalogues, consignments, etc.

A meeting space will be provided free of charge to any exonumia organization wishing to conduct a meeting during the Jamboree, and it is expected that a number of groups will take advantage of this opportunity. If you belong to a group desiring to hold a meeting during the Jamboree, please inquire for a meeting time.

Special displays of exonumia publications and of contemporary exonumia material will be provided. This provides you the opportunity to examine books which may be of interest to you, and to view what is currently available in tokens, medals, philatelic-numismatic combination covers, bars, etc.

For more information and registration forms write, Duane H. Feisel, P.O. Box 1302, Los Altos, CA 94022

Tell your collecting friends about the Jamboree, and help make this a real event for exonumia collectors!

TOKEN DISPLAYS

by George Gould, METCA #22

In our circle of collecting friends, there seems to be only a few who do up their tokens in any kind of framework for display, be it a picture frame, plastic holder or otherwise. Most are content with filling up their binders and the 2.x2's therein. Unbeknown to any other collector that I know of, I recently displayed 20 different miscellaneous tokens in a small frame with my card, in a local finance company window for 30 days.

Noting that most businesses of this sort usually have a small window area beside the door, devoid of anything save perhaps a plastic potted plant, I approached the manager of one a while back and suggested a small window display. He was eager to please and after giving him a signed paper absolving him of responsibility for my tokens in case of fire or theft, I brought in my display. A week later, I stopped by, curious for any comments he might have received. He promptly asked for a half dozen of my cards and gave me the names of two local citizens that I might contact. He exclaimed that a number of people had stopped in and chatted with his personnel about the display and is positive that one new client signed up for a substantial loan directly as a result of stopping and looking at my token display. To make a long story short, any display that I do up in the future on pinbacks, local postcards or whatever, will be readily accepted by him again. As a direct result, I acquired about 20 nice trade tokens, including 4 from Montana, one of which I believe to be a territory-era piece. As an indirect result, I also acquired a choice booklet of a little-known area of Montana, which was published in a limited edition by a resident of the region years ago.

You might like to give some thought to a token display. Keep in mind that a well-placed display of your collecting interest iss the best spokesman you could have.

POTPOURRI

by Virginia King, METCA #127

I read with interest METCA #301's article on unsolicited packages in the July, 1974 issue of TRADE TOKEN TOPICS, May I suggest to anyone who receives unasked for packages, refuse the material. Just mark the parcel 'Refused,' and put it back in your mailbox. My rural mail carrier instructed me about this. Unless the material is sent first class, the sender has to pay return postage to get it back. This should give the sender the message that you don't like such practices.

As far as I'm concerned, I've received a lot of additions to my collection from members of METCA who have been kind enough to send tokens for my inspection. I am honored that people trust me enough to give me approval service. By the time you write back and forth 2 or 3 times to make a deal, enough postage and time has been wasted to add quite a bit to the cost of your tokens. If you can look at the items in the first place, you can decide right then and there whether you want them or not. It sure beats driving 100 miles and not finding anything either. Perhaps I'm not as busy as some folks, as I don't have an outside job, but these are my sentiments on the subject.

Now I'd like to say I agree with Mr. Nott's opinion about the METCA paper (as stated in the July issue of TRADE TOKEN TOPICS.) Our publishers do a fine job with the monthly news and happenings in the token world. I fear those who do not like the paper have become too jaded and sophisticated in pursuing their hobby. They forget that token collecting is more of a fun thing than a profit-making venture. If we become too serious about tokens, they might become valuable like coins. Then we will have to put our collections in lock boxes, just as we have our coin collections. You can't enjoy anything that's locked up in the bank. I once heard a coin dealer say that he separated the men from the boys in his dealings. That is to say that he had no use for the small collector. Let's hope token collecting NEVER comes to that.

COLLECTORS. TRADERS, DEALERS he following lots will be available to the highest bidder, closing August 19, 1974. Postage paid.

MAIL BID SALE CLOSING AUGUST 20. 1974

These tokens came from a large hoard of old tokens, mainly California, that were saved from a slot machine operation from many years ago. For most of these tokens, only one piece turned up in years and. This is a rare opportunity to obtain some very desirable tokens for your collection. The following conditions and terms apply: 1. The tokens will be sold to the highest bidder at a 10% advance over the second highest bidder. 2. If you are the winner of any lots, you will be notified of the lots and the winning bid. No tokens will be sent out until payment has been received. 3. Postage and insurance costs will be added. Because of the rarity of these tokens, I suggest that registered mail be used, but you must specify "registered", "insured" or "insured airmail."

The descriptions include the complete inscription on the token. Standard abbreviations may be used. When applicable, the Album catalogue number is given.

BELATED COMMENTS ON THE SAN JOSE TOKEN JAMBOREE

By George Gould, METCA #22

Three of us went to San Jose, 1200 miles by car, worrying about the gas shortage, speeding citations and drowsiness at the wheel. As it turned out, accommodations at the hotel would have been fine but we chose an adjacent motel. We arrived the evening before, checked in and wandered over to the hotel lobby. The parking lot displayed a mixture of vehicles, from an Illinois Olds 442 to a Nevada Cadillac to an Oregon Microbus with psychedelic paint and graffiti. The lobby was busy with people so we sought out the Current Activities Display and found that our group was planned for the mezzanine. Ascending a circular staircase, familiar people passed us on the way down, stopping to say 'Hi.' Eager to see the layout, we looked in the convention area. Before us was a panorama of people, tables and boxes being unloaded. Our host, Duane Feisel, greeted us in a casual outfit, papers in hand. After explaining that the room was for dealers only until the next day, we were permitted to look and meet old friends. With that he was off in a rush, no doubt to solve one of the many problems that crop up in an undertaking of this magnitude.

One good glance around the floor area and then a speedy conclusion: tokens had indeed arrived! It looked for all intents and purposes like a well laid out coin show, but no coins! Instead there were trade tokens, so-called dollars, brothel token fantasies, bus tokens, OPA tokens, cardboard tickets, inaugural medals, pinbacks, centennial and exposition items. miscellaneous exonumia, and what turned out to be the talk of the show, advertising good-for mirrors. The next 2½ days were a whirlwind of excitement: buying, selling, swapping, seminars, tours, planned (and spontaneous) auctions, displays, and fellowship, renewing old acquaintances in the coffee shop. meeting new friends in the bourse room, late night swapping and token-trend discussions, and the fine banquet with good food and the never-to-be-forgotten prizes for lucky tickets afterwards (I. think everyone won something.) I'll never forget Travis Roberts of Texas, sitting with us at our table. waiting and waiting for his number to be called, only to find out each time there was someone else in the room who had a lucky ticket. At last! He was the last one! Lots of jokes, but not one about tokens. A good job well done for an old California friend, Gary Griffin, who got us all together for the group pictures. He was probably the only one there who never owned a token in his life.

It was all over too soon. With Sunday afternoon came packing, saying goodbyes and noting that our fellow collectors with whom we've corresponded never look like what we had visualized, Duane's education on a Jamboree which seemed to us to have gone off without a hitch and plans for another later in the year back East, wondering if we left or missed anything. With our treasures packed away and a lot more educated on the hobby, we headed for home. It appears that everyone made it safely. Back to work, with memories, new tokens and the recurring thought: I wonder if I can make that next Jamboree.....?

THE HARRY MITCHELL TOKENS OF EL PASO TEXAS

By Dick Worthington, METCA #253

This story is intended to serve a three-fold purpose, namely to attribute two known Harry Mitchell maverick tokens, shed a little light on this gentleman's colorful life, and to stimulate a little interest in the tubulent history of Harry Mitchell's chosen home, El Paso, Texas.

El Paso, Texas where the old West lasted longest, is today a far cry from the dirt-streeted, saloon-loaded, gün-slinging town of its past. Its roots are deeply embedded in the early Spanish explorations of the Southwest, in the gunslinging days of John Wesley Hardin, who had more notches on his gun than Billy The Kid and in the rip-roaring, wide open days of prostitution, when Tillie Howard's 'cat house' operated on Utah St. and a drink could be had at the Parlor Bar. Tillie Howards 'cat house,' where this term originated, beasted a solid onyx bathtub and was decorated with fabulous furniture and statuary. It was only a stone's throw from old Juarez, Mexico where bullets from open warfare splattered El Paso's streets and caused more than one casualty among its citizenry.

Harry Mitchell added to El Paso's already colorful history and lived through the turbulent period when this rough border town developed into its present day image as a clean. modern, thriving city where life is no longer a helter skelter, do or die situation. The story of Harry Mitchell began in England where he was born, but little is known of his early life until his arrival in El Paso in 1912. At that time Mr. Mitchell assumed his chosen profession as a bartender at the Paso del Norte Hotel, which to this day is an El Paso landmark. The Paso del Norte was the gathering place of El Paso's great and near great and through the Paso del Norte, Mr. Mitchell's fame began to spread, not only as a first class bartender, but also as a very refined gentleman of considerable dignity. Mr. Mitchell's early contacts at the Paso del Norte with influential El Pasoans were to stand him in good stead later in his career. With the advent of World War I he was off to serve his adopted country, returning at war's end to resume his role as bartender at the Paso del Norte. Here he remained until prohibition closed the doors of the plush old bar.

In 1926 Mr. Mitchell crossed the border to Juarez, Mexico and opened the Mint Cafe and Saloon, just across the Rio Grande River from downtown El Paso. The Mint Cafe was an instant success with many of Harry Mitchell's old customers flocking to Juarez to drown their great thirsts. The fame of the Mint Cafe spread all over the Southwest and for the next eight years thirsty Americans crowded its doors until prohibition died an inglorious death. Buring his operation of the Mint Cafe, Mr. Mitchell was host to many prominent figures of the day such as Fannie Brice, Eddie Rickenbacker, Amelia Earhart, Gen. Billy Mitchell, and New York's Mayor. Jimmy Walker. The hospitality of The Mint Cafe and Marry Mitchell was unsurpassed. In 1934 Mr. Mitchell recrossed the border to El Paso and established the Harry Mitchell Brewing Co. Mitchell Premium Beer came into being and its sale and fame spread all over the Southwest. The Mitchell Brewing Company occupied an older pre-prohibition brewery known as the El Paso Brewing Company. The old building still remains and is pictured on the Model Bar token from El Paso.

The Harry Mitchell tokens are as follows: first is an aluminum maverick, HARRY MITCHELL' BREWING/ COMPANY/ RATHSKELLER, reverse GOOD FOR' 1 GLASS OF BEER. This token was presumably for a complimentary cold one and likely used by brewery visitors. The second token's exact function is unknown to the writer but was likely used as an advertising piece, widely distributed and redeemable at any Mitchell beer dealer, for a bottle of Mitchell's Premium Beer, and then redeemed by the Mitchell Brewing Company. Its description is: DRINK, HARRY/MITCHELLS/ BEER - reverse, GOOD FOR/ 10/ IN/ MERCHANDISE. This piece is round brass.

The Harry Mitchell Brewing Company was sold to a group of investment bankers representing Falstaff in 1951, and Mr. Mitchell retired after having served as a bartender to two nations, the United States and Mexico. He was an Englishman by birth, an American by choice, and a Mexican by necessity. The reader is referred to Dr. C. L. Sonnichen's, PASS OF THE NORTH, Texas Western Press, 1968, for a fascinating and detailed account of the history of El Paso and old Juarez, Mexico.

FRFF RAILROAD FARE

By Charles Robinson, METCA #82

Here's a token that I found recently. Around the turn of the century in Minnesota there was a great deal of activity by the railroads and land dealers to move farmers into the Dakotas and Montana. The railroad posters can still be found occasionally in antique shops offering cheap land, free railroad fare, etc. The token shown is the first such token I have seen offering free railroad fare.

ANOTHER TOKEN MAKER

By Phil Klabel, METCA #396

Going through a 1915 City Directory of La Salle, Illinois, I came across a full page ad of the Apollo Metal Works of La-Salle, Illinois. They listed Trade Checks as being one of their products. They would make them in any size, shape or kind. Many of the tokens I've found in La Salle County were made of zinc, which leads me to assume they were made by Apollo, as the business was only two blocks from a large zinc rolling mill.

I talked with several old-timers who had worked there in the mid 1920's. None could remember any Trade Checks or Advertising Novelties being made, just sheet metal plating work. So it looks like the onset of Prohibition brought all this work to a stop. During a strike in May, 1935 a riot broke out and the Company moved everything in the place to Chicago. The building has stood empty to this day.

JAMBOREE EAST 1974

NATIONAL TOKEN, MEDAL, and EXONUMIA COLLECTORS JAMBOREE

October 4-6, 1974 • Hotel Webster Hall • Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

General Chairman DUANE H. FEISEL P. O. Box 1302 LOS ALTOS, CA 94022 Tel: 415.941-2690

September 3, 1974

Dear Friend:

The eastern version of the Token and Medal Jamboree, highly successful the past two years in the spring in the west, will soon take place as you can see by the information above.

One of the highlights of the past Jamborees has been the special Exonumia Library Display. In this display, books, catalogue, and other publications relating to tokens, medals and exonumia are set out for examination by those attending the Jamboree. This display will be a feature part of Jamboree East 1974.

If you will submit copies of your exonumia publications for Jamboree East 1974, they will be placed on display and information concerning the publication, including order information, will be contained in a folder distributed to all those attending. Enclosed is a copy of this folder from the recent Jamboree in San Jose. This is an ideal way to reach potential customers. When you submit a publication, it becomes a permanent part of the Exonumia Library Display. However, only those publications submitted for Jamboree East 1974 will be included in the advertising folder. If the publication you submit duplicates an item already in the Library, the duplicate copy will be given as a door prize at the banquet.

If you wish to participate in Jamboree East 1974, please send your publications now to the address above or, if you use UPS for shipment, to my home address: 869 Gardenia Way, Los Altos, CA 94022. It is important that you act promptly so that the advertising folder can be prepared.

Those of you who participated in Jamboree West 1974 are invited to take part in this coming event. For you I have enclosed a copy of the program (note that all those submitting publications are listed in the program) and a set of five tokens used at that Jamboree. Thank you for your support!

My long term plans are to hold two Jamborees each year--one in the west in the springtime, and the other in the east in the fall of the year. Jamboree West 1975 is scheduled for April 4 through 6 at the Le Baron Hotel, San Jose, California.

Incidentally, if you have any sales literature pertaining to your publications, you may also submit copies of that to be made available to those examining the display.

Sincerely,

bay area reference center

Dear Friends:

We have a library patron who would like to know any information about a business token, particularly its date.

The token is round, about the size of a dime in thickness and shape, material is metal and seems to be gold colored. It has the inscription - Prescott's Soda Water, 11 Wall St., N.Y. - on one side and on the verso - twanty-four dollars.

The company is now obsolete and does not show up in manuals of obsolete public companies, nor in the token books or books on soda water that the library owns. Also it was found here in San Francisco around the Embarcadero excavations.

Any guidance you might give us in determining particularly the date of the token would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you.

'GOOD FOR' WHISKEY JUG

Phil Klabel, METCA #396, sent us this picture and says that the man was in business in 1900. The inscription on the jug reads 'THIS JUG IS GOOD FOR 10 CENTS IF REFILLED AT COS-GROVE'S PLACE, DEALER IN WINES AND LIQUORS, UTICA, ILL.'

SO-CALLED DOLLAR

By Shawnee Gordon, METCA #230

I have a So-Called Dollar, Hibler & Kappen #687, this being the Santa Monica Breakwater dedication, 1933, mine being the aluminum and rated VERY RARE by H & K, meaning if H & K can be accurate there were between 21 and 50 pieces known. My piece has been reported to have been bought in its entirety by the elder Harold Smith of Harold's Club of Reno, Nevada, anodized blue over the aluminum, his intricate identifying design counterstamped on one side and 1000.00 counterstamped on the other, and presented to VIP's in 1933, actually being good for this amount on the tables in his club. Mine has these counterstamps, having been professionally and carefully holed -- to cancel?

Does any reader have or know the correct history of these pieces ????

CANADIAN TOKENS AND MEDALS

This volume, fourth in the GLEANINGS FROM THE NUMISMATIST series, brings together for the first time the extensive material published in The Numismatist dealing with Canadian token coinage. Articles by many of the important writers in this field such as Dr. Eugene Courteau, R.W. McLachlan and W.A.D. Lees are included in this 352-page, hard-bound volume which has an easy-to-use geographical and chronological format.

Most of these articles are over fifty years old and therefore virtually unobtainable today. However, their age enhances their value, as the research of these early pioneers in the token and medal area (even as to their estimation of rarity) is still valid and in many cases has not been surpassed. Varieties usually not included in some standard catalogs receive wide coverage in this compilation. An extensive and detailed price guide by R.C. Willey, as well as a foreword by Maj. Sheldon Carroll, has been added to make Canaddan Tokens and Medals of greater service to the American and Canadian token collector. Extensively illustrated and a mandatory reference for every Canadian numismatist.

FRITOR'S NOTES

T.T.T. COVERS

This month's cover shows tokens from Georgia. Next month we will show some rare Oklahoma tokens sent by Travis Roberts. How about sending us some rubbings of rare or unusual tokens from your state for the T.T.T. cover?

THANKS FOR THE UNDERSTANDING

Usually I do not answer letters for a long time, because most of my ''hobby time'' is occupied with printing or reproducing METCA material. I want to thank all METCA members for their patience and for not giving me H--- for lack of reply. This goes a long way toward my getting the T.T.T. out each month.

MAVERICK LIST

We just got some maverick copy from Duane Feisel which we will publish next issue. We also have a list of maverick material from Lewis Ferguson which I forgot to send to Duane. Sorry about that Lewis, I'll get the material to Duane and write to you this week...

THE MAY HOSIERY MILLS, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

By Paul M. Dillingham, METCA #266

The MAY HOSIERY MILLS tokens of Nashville, Tennessee, which appear from time to time have been the subject of considerable speculation. For several years I have owned one of these without taking the time to research their history. Since the mill is 77 years old I had reasoned that they were used as commissary pieces or scrip payment for piece work. Finally with a little time off and a burning curvosity, I began an inquiry by going directly to the source. After applying to the Mill for admission, I asked for one of the 'older' employees in the firm who might just remember the use or purpose of the tokens. One of the secretaries asked me if she could see the tokens, and upon presenting them she exclaimed, 'Oh, we still use those; they are available through the lunch room.' A little more questioning and the whole mystery was revealed.

The Mills are located in a low income, disadvantaged area of Nashville, and as one might suppose, wages are not the highest. The tokens are available in the lunch room at the maximum of $2.00 per week. This is deducted from the employees weekly wages. The purpose seems to be an assist to those employees who are temporarily short of ready cash. There are several other other possible reasons; the use of tokens permits workers to go and come in a high crime area without carrying money as well as the possibility of getting around the paying of retail sales tax.

The lunch room is a focal point of the large plant which employs about 1,000 persons. One maintenance man who for obvious reasons remains anonymous said, 'The Mays don't pay enough to live on and if it weren't for the cheap lunches and the girls I sure would leave.' The tokens have been used since the 1930's and approximately 30-40% of the employees take advantage of them. The company encourages its employees not to give away the tokens in return for cash value, and it required a written letter of permission for me to obtain a single set for this article. I was told that under no circumstances would the company furnish singles or sets to the outside public. To the best of my knowledge May Hosiery Mills is the only firm in Nashville still using tokens.

ERROR TOKEN

By METCA #250

Mis-struck coins are eagerly sought after by coin collectors but it is rare that a medal or token escaped the die maker's scrutinizing eye, as quantities were usually a few hundred, not a few million. The illustrated dark brass token from Cook, Nebraska is an example of one that got away, so to speak. H. H. Scha (??) obviously had a general store in Cook, 1902 probably being the year he opened. The 3 main clues are that many general stores in the midwest dated their tokens, and usually issued them in sets from 1¢ to $1.00. Also many 'merchandise' tokens stated 'not transferable' as noted.

'More unusual is the fact that the planchet also missed the first coining operation that would have put a raised rim on the piece.

COIN SHOOTERS AND MAVERICKS

By George Gould, METCA #22

An area of acquiring trade tokens that is coming into its own is that of finding tokens by 'Coin Shooters,' a modern term that describes those that wander far and wide with their metal detectors finding a gamut of items from rings and jackknives to lighters, lucky pocket pieces and trade tokens. Most keep their findings to show the myriad items they have found while detecting. Chances are that if the token you have recently acquired is corroded aluminum or very dark brass, it has lain in the ground for a period of time and was originally dug up via a metal detector. Checking with members of local detector clubs will no doubt bring one in contact with many new discoveries. These clubs are being organized in many communities by leaps and bounds.

When does a Maverick token cease to be such? When it is identified or tied in with a certain town, used by a certain merchant. Many tokens in this category are destined to be Mavericks always: Pastime Pool Hall, Gem Saloon, City Cigar Store, initials only. Most collectors fail to compare mavericks picked up in a certain area with known tokens from that area. With some exceptions, many regions had a distinct type of die style used on most of the tokens in that area.

The reason for many Mavericks being in existence is the fact that the local merclant ordering them assumed that everyone in the immediate area knew his name or his business and saw no need to mention the town, much less the state. He never foresaw the fact that many of his tokens would leave town in the pockets of salesmen, miners, railroad employees and the various transients stopping for a time before passing on. Once these tokens were examined later by the holder, he would many times throw them away thinking 'I'll probably never get back there again.' Many however did put the small souvenirs with other small trinkets of their travels, which probably accounts for the existence of many. To this day many people pile up a small collection of items from their travels, from match books to hotel keys to car stickers.

OLD-TIME BATH TOKEN?

The illustrated rubbing was sent to us by Francis Christiano, METCA #168. Apparently Davi was the keeper of the bath but does anyone know where Davi's Barber Shop was located?

P. J. MAHONEY

By Vernon McDowell, METCA #122

Through the years Mahoney's Tavern has served the community of Waukon, located in Northeastern Iowa in Allamakee County. P. J. Mahoney purchased the business in 1914 from Fred Herman, who at that time operated the business as a saloon. The building was then owned by the Gum Brewing Company. During Prohibition, P. J. Mahoney stayed in business selling near beer, cider, light lunches, candy, etc. Mahoney's was a gathering place for many a friendly card game and through the years he gave out a variety of cardboard Good Fors. At this writing I know of only one metal type token, which is brass. It is said there were some error metal tokens made with Waukon, Minn. on them instead of Waukon, Ia., but this type has yet to be seen.

P. J. Mahoney died in 1967, leaving the tavern to his son, Edward, who was running the business at the time of his father's death. Ed is still giving out paper and cardboard Good Fors and like his father has changed varieties several times in the last few years. To interested collectors I have a limited amount of these cardboard Good Fors that I will trade for Iowa tokens I can use.

SALOON TOKEN AUCTION RESULTS

by Duane H. Feisel

In the August 1974 issue of TRADE TOKEN TOPICS, I ran a three page listing (pp. 125-127) of saloon tokens for a mail bid sale.
Most of these tokens were from western states, predominently California, and there were a few maverick tokens. To provide the collector with some information as to what tokens are worth, I have compiled the information below which lists the token number in the advertisement, the number of bids received on that specific lot, the highest bid, and the awarded bid. Whenever possible, the highest bid was reduced to 10% over the second high bid.

While most of the tokens brought what I consider to be fair retail prices, there were some surprises on both the high and the low sides. I know that in some cases the policy of reducing the bids to 10% over the second highest resulted in more generous bids than would have been otherwise offered. Then, as in most auctions and mail bid sales, there were a few sleepers which went at low prices.

I hope this information is useful to you. I would like to urge others who conduct mail bid sales in TRADE TOKEN TOPICS to offer similar information—it can only help all of us!
